CRISTO REY NETWORK®

MISSION

The Cristo Rey Network® is an entrepreneurial network of high schools that uniquely integrates four years of rigorous academic curricula, four years of professional work experience, and robust support to and through college. Comprised of Catholic, college- and career-preparatory high schools serving students from families of limited financial means, the Cristo Rey Network's formational model opens doors to fulfill dreams.

Founded by John P. Foley, S.J. in 1996 when Cristo Rey Jesuit High School introduced a highly innovative integration of academic and professional experience to Catholic secondary education in the United States.

SAINT MARTIN DE PORRES
CLEVELAND'S CRISTO REY HIGH SCHOOL

A UNIQUE EDUCATIONAL MODEL

Saint Martin de Porres is a Catholic, co-educational high school located in the St. Clair-Superior neighborhood of Cleveland. Our students come exclusively from families of limited economic means.

As a member of the national Cristo Rey Network of schools, Saint Martin partners with over 120 local organizations that are committed to educating our students through the Corporate Work Study Program. Students earn 1,600 hours of real-world work experience by graduation and earn nearly 20% of the cost of their own education.

Combining a rigorous, college-preparatory curriculum with professional work experience, Saint Martin provides a caring, safe environment dedicated to helping students become college ready, career prepared, and ready for life!
