MISSION

The Cristo Rey Network® empowers thousands of students from underserved, low-income communities to develop their minds and hearts to become lifelong contributors to society. By providing students an extraordinary college preparatory education and a unique four-year, integrated corporate work study experience, we seek to transform urban America one student at a time.

Founded by John P. Foley, S.J. in 1996 when Cristo Rey Jesuit High School introduced a highly innovative integration of academic and professional experience to Catholic secondary education in the United States.

A UNIQUE EDUCATIONAL MODEL

- Delivers an innovative approach to inner-city education that integrates four years of rigorous college preparatory academics with four years of professional work experience through the Corporate Work Study Program.
- Cristo Rey schools are a national leader in building a pipeline of diverse, 21st century talent and preparing underserved youth for the demands of the growing knowledge-based economy.
- A team of four students shares one entry-level job at a professional organization, allowing students to earn the majority of their high school tuition while gaining real-world work experience.
- This experience has a powerful formational impact on our students, widening the circle of the world outside their neighborhoods, developing our students' critical cognitive and non-cognitive skills in both the classroom and the workplace.
- Introduces our students to inspirational role models and supportive mentors, strengthening the competence, confidence, and aspiration so important to college and career success.

OUR IMPACT

- 100% college acceptance
- 90% direct enrollment into college
- 35% college completion compared to their socio-economic peers
- For 20 years the Network has exclusively partnered with young men and women from modest means in transforming their life trajectories through education.

"In a world where the social fabric is fraying, Cristo Rey weaves it back together. Businesses, schools, churches, families, children, and communities all come together in the mutual pursuit of providing quality education. As a result, students enjoy a more diverse experience than they would get in a traditional educational setting."
